

BBCA : Leading the Business Community in combating HIV and AIDS

HIV/AIDS is a workplace issue because it has a marked impact on workers, their families and dependants, enterprises and national economies. At the Botswana Business Coalition on AIDS (BBCA) we believe that it is crucial to mobilize the private sector in Botswana to both raise awareness on HIV and AIDS issues as they relate to the workplace and to encourage the development and implementation of workplace programmes.

Current workplace policies emphasize providing prevention and treatment services. This must be expanded to include strategies for mitigating the deleterious effects of HIV and AIDS on individual worker performance and the overall productivity of institutions.
